Waves of Light Wand Color Chart

The Waves of light is a hand held instrument designed to balance the Chakras. by light and energy frequencies through cut Reiki blessed quartz crystals.

Each color and energy frequency is programmed to coincide with the 7 Major Chakras and 6 other Chakras to help our body, mind and spirit to reach its highest, clearest and optimal frequency for balance in life.

A session consist of using each of the 13 colored lights over the areas listed below approximately 2 - 3 inches above the areas listed below in a clockwise motion for 1 - 2 minutes for each of the Chakras for the best results.

A session should last from 15 - 30 minutes. (I suggest that the first session being 30 minutes and at least 15 minute for regular sessions every other day there after.)

You can also use The Waves of light Wand to pull out negative and static energy from the body and some say it will help to relieve pain and mend tendons and bones over time by going over the areas and imagining the desired effect happening in your mind a few times a day.

Using the Waves of Light Wand over time will create a healthy frequency within your body helping you to feel better, brighter, thinking clearer, more insightful. grounded, more self aware, emotional clarity, better circulation, etc.

You may want to start at the Feet or Earth Chakra and work your way up to the Universal Chakra and other times Start at the Universal Chakra and work down to the Earth Chakra.
